Welcome to the first issue of volume 29 of the Scandinavian Journal of Information Systems. We take the opportunity to thank our authors, reviewers, and readers for your support for the journal.

This issue of the journal is a full Special Issue, on the topic of researcher retrospectives. The three Special Issue editors, Arto Lanamäki, Jaana Porra and Rudy Hirschheim, have done a great job in acquiring the career retrospectives, and have also written a thought-provoking editorial. We thank the five senior contributors and our excellent production manager, Jacob Nørbjerg.

We hope that you find this issue interesting. We look forward to receiving your best papers with a view to publishing them in the Scandinavian IS community's own journal—the Scandinavian Journal of Information Systems.
